"The grave itself is but a covered bridge, leading from light to light, through a brief darkness!"

-Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, The Golden Legend

1

Descent from the Cross is positioned on the western side, where sunset conditions light the chapel at the end of the day to signify the end of Jesus's life.

2

Ascension to Heaven is positioned on the north side, along the main axis of entry. The steadier and softer lighting throughout the day provide consistent lighting for Ascension iconography.

3

Resurrection from the Tomb is positioned on the east, where sunrise conditions light the chapel at the beginning of the day to signify the revival of Jesus.
